Useful For

Identification of BRAF V600E-mutated protein

Reflex Tests

Test ID	Reporting Name	Available Separately	Always Performed
IHTOA	IHC Additional, Tech Only	No, (Bill Only)	No
IHTOI	IHC Initial, Tech Only	No, (Bill Only)	No

Testing Algorithm

For the initial technical component only immunohistochemical (IHC) stain performed, the appropriate bill-only test ID will be reflexed and charged (IHTOI). For each additional technical component only IHC stain performed, an additional bill-only test ID will be reflexed and charged (IHTOA).

Clinical and Interpretive

Clinical Information

BRAF is a serine/threonine protein kinase and a member of the Raf family. The BRAF V600E alteration leads to constitutive activation of the mitogen activated protein kinase pathway, which plays a role in cell proliferation and tumorigenesis. This genetic alteration has been detected in a variety of tumors such as melanoma, colorectal cancer, papillary thyroid carcinoma, hairy cell leukemia, Langerhans cell histiocytosis, and pleomorphic xanthoastrocytomas.

Interpretation

This test does not include pathologist interpretation: only technical performance of the stain. If interpretation is required order PATHC / Pathology Consultation for a full diagnostic evaluation or second opinion of the case. The positive and negative controls are verified as showing appropriate immunoreactivity and documentation is retained at Mayo Clinic Rochester. If a control tissue is not included on the slide, a scanned image of the relevant quality control tissue is available upon request. Contact 855-516-8404.

Interpretation of this test should be performed in the context of the patient's clinical history and other diagnostic tests by a qualified pathologist.

Cautions

Age of a cut paraffin section can affect immunoreactivity. Stability thresholds vary widely among published literature and are antigen-dependent. Best practice is for paraffin sections to be cut fresh.
